

故宮文物大解密

Artifact Secrets of the Palace Museum

Part 1 · After Our Visit 參觀後回顧

ICS Creator Academy · Summer 2026

Do You Remember? 你還記得嗎？

We visited the National Palace Museum on July 7th!

What was the most surprising thing you saw?

Which exhibit was your favourite? Why?

Was anything confusing or hard to understand?

If you could take ONE photo, what would it be?

Share with your partner first, then tell the class!

翠玉白菜

Jadeite Cabbage

清朝 Qing Dynasty
約 1644–1912 AD

Artifact #1 第一件文物

What is it? 它是什麼？

Size 尺寸

Only 18.7 cm tall — smaller than your ruler!

Material 材料

Carved from a single piece of jadeite jade 翡翠 — green and white naturally!

Hidden secret 隱藏秘密

Look closely — there's a grasshopper and a katydid hiding in the leaves! 螽斯和蝗蟲

Who owned it? 誰的？

A wedding gift for a Qing Dynasty princess 清朝瑾妃的嫁妝.

Why do you think a cabbage was chosen as a gift?

The Meaning Behind the Cabbage 翠玉白菜的含義

White = Purity 白色 = 純潔

The white part of the jade represents a pure and honest heart — important for a bride in Chinese culture.

Green = Prosperity 綠色 = 富貴

Green jade is extremely valuable in Chinese culture. It symbolises wealth and good fortune 財富.

Insects = Many Children 昆蟲 = 多子多孫

The hidden grasshopper and katydid are symbols of fertility — wishing the princess many children!

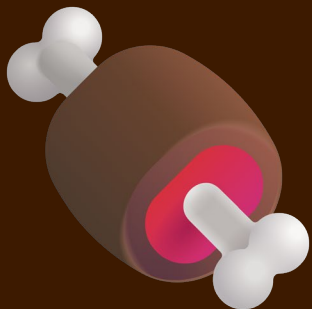

Cabbage = 百財 (100 Fortunes)

In Chinese, cabbage 白菜 sounds like 百財 — meaning 'a hundred fortunes'. A lucky pun! 諧音

Can you think of other foods that have lucky meanings in Taiwan?

肉形石

Meat-shaped Stone

清朝 Qing Dynasty

Artifact #2 第二件文物

Is it food? 這是食物嗎？

Material 材料

It's actually a piece of jasper stone 碧玉 — naturally layered in brown and white, just like pork belly!

How was it made? 怎麼做的？

Craftsmen dyed and treated the surface to make it look even more like real braised pork 東坡肉!

Size 尺寸

5.7 cm tall — about the size of your fist. Tiny but incredibly realistic!

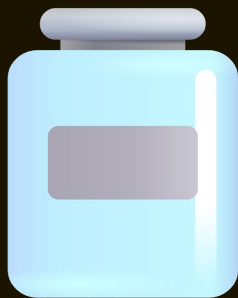

Fun fact 趣事

Many visitors say they feel hungry when they see it! 看到就想吃飯！

Why would someone make a rock look like food? What do you think?

毛公鼎

Mao Gong Ding

西周 Western Zhou Dynasty
約 827–782 BC

Artifact #3 第三件文物

A Bronze Pot with a Secret 青銅鼎

Age 年齡

Over 2,800 years old! That's older than the Great Wall of China 長城!

The secret inside 內部秘密

Inside the pot, 499 Chinese characters are inscribed — one of the longest ancient bronze inscriptions ever found!

What does it say? 刻了什麼?

A story about King Xuan of Zhou giving orders to a duke named Mao Gong. It's like an ancient document!

Why is it important? 為什麼重要?

It helps historians understand how people spoke and wrote 2,800 years ago. A real-life history book!

If YOU could write 499 characters inside a pot, what story would you tell?

Let's Compare! 比較三件文物

翠玉白菜
Jadeite Cabbage

Material

Jade 翡翠

Age

Qing Dynasty
清朝

Original use

Wedding gift
嫁妝

Wow factor

Hidden insects!
藏著昆蟲！

肉形石
Meat-shaped Stone

Material

Jasper 碧玉

Age

Qing Dynasty
清朝

Original use

Decorative art
裝飾藝術

Wow factor

Looks like food!
像食物！

毛公鼎
Mao Gong Ding

Material

Bronze 青銅

Age

Zhou Dynasty
西周

Original use

Royal document
皇家記錄

Wow factor

499 characters!
499個字！

You are now a Palace Museum Expert!

你現在是故宮文物專家了！

1. Which artifact surprised you the most? 哪件文物最讓你驚訝？

2. Which one would you most want to own? Why? 你最想擁有哪一件？

3. If you could add ONE new artifact to the Palace Museum, what would it be?